ANNOUNCING A NEW RESOURCE BLOG!

The board of the Association of Lutheran Resource Centers has begun a blog at <http://blogs.elca.org/alrc>. It's a new opportunity for learning about and highlighting best resources! This is a team effort to serve pastors, teachers, and lay leaders around the church.

The blog is best suited to announcements and posts from the board that benefit from "tagging" about different topics. The POSTS become part of a "feed" that anyone can subscribe to or put on their center's Website. The blog provides a way of categorizing and saving the best resources through POSTS, PAGES, and TAGS. It also makes more public and visible what resource centers have to offer. Unlike a listserv or e-mail group that requires joining, anyone can browse a blog.

You're invited to visit at <http://blogs.elca.org/alrc>. The blog provides a way of categorizing and saving the best resources through POSTS, PAGES, and TAGS. It also makes more public and visible what resource centers have to offer.
